Dermatology of Boca has all the bells and whistles when it comes to treating the largest organ in your body: your skin. But providing unmatched patient care is what makes the practice truly unique.

“We’ve thought through all of the variables that may have been deficient or not optimal in other practices,” says Dr. Jeffrey Fromowitz. “We thought about what our patients need to feel comfortable and to be safe.”

Take surgery, for example: Instead of patients having to come back for multiple procedures, the doctor employs a plastic surgeon, and the two work in tandem like a symphonic duet. When Dr. Fromowitz completes a procedure, the plastic surgeon swoops in, doing any reconstructive work at the same time. This kind of forward thinking makes all the difference.

For Dr. Fromowitz, it’s all about doing what’s best for his patients, from giving them ample time to accommodating patients who need him immediately.

“People are used to some practices that are run more like factories, where you’ll wait two hours to see a doctor for two minutes. That’s the furthest from how we practice,” he says. “We take time to care for our patients, and that’s why we see multiple generations within one family. We know our patients by name. My staff cares very deeply, and our patients see that coming from the top down.”

A lifelong learner, Dr. Fromowitz established a center for clinical research within the practice, keeping him apprised of the latest “skinformation,” which he shares, as a teacher, with students and fellow doctors through the University of Florida and Florida Atlantic University.

With state-of-the-art lasers that treat a variety of skin conditions to the most advanced technique for removing types of skin cancer without cutting to anti-aging treatments that will leave you glowing, Dermatology of Boca has all of your dermatological needs covered.
